

NorthLight

Few thousand miles from home.

Cold wind blow the snow.

Something is driving me forward.

Why, I don't know.

NorthLight in the sky,

I don't know where I am.

Wolfes howling to the moon.

The dream is without end.

We don't live in the future.

We don't live in the past.

Here and now is the lifetime.

Nothing's forever lasts.

I go to the sunset

in this mystic land.

I go in a circle.

The beginning is the end.

NorthLight in the sky.

I don't know where I am.

Wolfes howling to the moon.

The dream is without end.
